SUMMARY

Khabarovsk Army Barracks Krasnaya Rechka AL 14 is located between the Khabarovsk-Vladivostok highway and the Trans-Siberian rail line, on the south edge of Krasnaya Rechka (Figure 1).

The installation covers approximately 200 acres and contains a probable administration building, 5 barracks, 4 storage buildings, a probable bunker, 5 vehicle sheds, a possible maintenance building, a probable equipment park with 2 probable equipment sheds, a probable theatre/recreation building, 6 support buildings, a powerplant, and a water tower. Training facilities include an athletic field, a parade ground, and a CAB aircraft in a double secured area with 2 support buildings. The presence of the aircraft may indicate an airborne function. A sub-caliber firing range (this range appears to be Khabarovsk Training Area Krasnaya Rechka, [REDACTED]) possibly associated with this barracks area, is located at 48-20N 135-07E.

The installation was covered on [REDACTED] photography and [REDACTED] missions between [REDACTED]. All buildings except 2 storage and 2 vehicle sheds have been added between [REDACTED]
